Governor Mike Huckabee Endorses Governor Mike Rounds for U.S. Senate

Pierre, SD – Governor Mike Huckabee a pastor, former Governor of Arkansas, 2008 republican presidential candidate, a NY Times best-selling author, and current host of “The Huckabee Show” on the Fox News Channel, today endorsed Mike Rounds for U.S. Senate.

Governor Huckabee is committed to helping Republicans regain control of the U.S. Senate and support conservative principles around the country. Governor Huckabee only supports Republican candidates who are passionate advocates of tax reform, a strong national defense, real border security, life, the family, less government, and Israel.

“My long time friend, Mike Rounds, is exactly what we need in the United States Senate,” said Governor Huckabee, “His experience as governor of the great state of South Dakota, dedication to tackling the federal debt, strengthening and honoring our military, border security, as well as his strong support of faith, family, life and freedom – makes my endorsement a great pleasure. Respectfully, I ask my friends in South Dakota and around the nation to rally behind Mike. Washington D.C. can use a dose of South Dakota’s common sense.”

“I am deeply honored by Governor Huckabee’s endorsement. We served together as governors and established a deep friendship and common bond,” stated Mike Rounds, “The principles he represents are very much in line with mine, and I believe, the vast majority of South Dakotans. I’m very grateful and plan to work extremely hard to earn the same endorsement from my fellow South Dakotans.”
